

Update on the proposed Alta Community Center

Ennead completed their feasibility study for the proposed Community Center and presented their findings at the last Planning Commission meeting, April 27, 2021. Considering all comments, program elements and site conditions, “The Lift” concept, show below, is the recommended design concept. A full presentation of the history and methodology of Ennead’s study is available online at altacommunitycenter.com.

The next step will be a market analysis or feasibility study for funding of the community center. Results of that study will determine the town’s next steps.

Recommended Design “Lift”

After a thorough and inspiring engagement process with the Alta Community, the design team is proud to present our feasibility study findings. Our recommended design, nicknamed “Lift”, is a response to the values and priorities the Alta Community communicated to us. Of the concepts explored “Lift” best addressed the many challenges of building on this site - avalanche impact - in a structurally efficient and sustainable way while also providing the best value building that meets the town’s spatial needs with equitable access to daylight and views.
